The Center provided assistance and counseling services, as well as activities for spending spare time for the children placed. Services organization was carried out in a flexible way, adapted to each child situation, taking into account: child's age, his/her development capacities, affective and educational necessities, level of education, necessities for professional training, as well as capacities for autonomous evolution and integration of each child into various life spheres. Thus, we may draw a conclusion from the foregoing results that were realized the objectives of the project 'A Family for Each Child' proposed for this period.
